UEFA and EFP sign contract for 2008

UEFA's President Michel Platini and EFP's counterpart Risto Nieminen signed an agreement on November 14 for the 2008 edition of the UEFA Intertoto Cup. This signing secures the continuation of this since 1961 existing summer tournament, which was adopted by UEFA in 1995, and has given the chance for the national sports betting lotteries to offer a year-round betting program ever since.

Risto Nieminen underlined this by saying, "EFP is extremely happy and proud to continue this important partnership, in that for grassroots football and smaller football FA's, it is an essential tournament. We are thrilled to be the partner in this traditional summer tournament".

The 2008 UEFA Intertoto Cup will kick-off in the second half of June, with three qualifying rounds before teams can earn a place in the UEFA Cup.
